MAJORITY LEADER NELSON: READY TO WORK WITH GOVERNOR DOYLE TO FACE CHALLENGES HEAD ON

MADISON – Assembly Majority Leader Thomas Nelson (D-Kaukauna) offered this statement following the Governor’s State of the State address.

“Tonight’s address was a loud, bipartisan call to Democrats and Republicans to come together to work through the toughest economic problems in two generations. That’s exactly what we’re prepared to do.”

“In our first days of the session, we have acted swiftly to pass legislation that will create jobs and move Wisconsin down the path to economic recovery. With bipartisan support, we passed the American Jobs Act and the Wisconsin First legislation which both promote the investment of Wisconsin taxpayer dollars back into Wisconsin businesses.”

“Earlier today, we passed an emergency extension of unemployment compensation, to give out-of-work Wisconsinites the means to provide for their families while they look for work.”

“As was noted this evening in the State of the State address, we have tough work ahead of us. But the Assembly is prepared to lead on the issues that matter most – growing our economy and creating jobs so Wisconsinites can get back to work.”
